The school year seemed to come early and with it came many changes. The most noticeable: block scheduling. The minute bell cued us to hurl ourselves into our first hour class, thus ending summer officially. Our concern once class started was not what homework we would have on the first day, but instead what day it actually was. A or B day? A or B week? Hours 1 through 4? Hours 5 through 8? A, B, or even C lunch? These new questions weighed on our minds. As the days flew by, the fear of forgetting the answers remained with us, but only as a memory. There were other things to consider....

Who are all these new teachers? Where am I going to park? When is the new school going to be built? How many freshmen can there possibly be? How long is each period?

As we faced each day, we learned to accept, adapt, and possibly even appreciate the changes of the school day. Faces of teachers and acquaintances were no longer a memory, but a vision of friendship. The summer was fun, but now school had arrived. The fun ended as our freedom turned into a block.

Blocks of Time

Change! It seems inevitable. Change is a common aspect of life, especially student life. Words and phrases such as “cool” and “groovy” come in and out of the student vocabulary rapidly. New slang evolves from the old, almost as if mocking the decade before. The most obvious evidence of change shines through in clothing styles. Style from the seventies wouldn't have been thought of in the eighties. The nineties have taken the seventies wardrobe and, with a snip here and a hem there, new trends are created. “People have more expensive tastes” said junior Elizabeth Eule. “They shop at Abercrombie and American Eagle.” Today's students do not mind spending more money for jeans and sweaters than in the past. Fashion and style represent the keys to the past; pictures act as a time capsule for the young to learn from and the old to remember.

All of Our Blocks in a Row

They're everywhere, yet too far away. They're mysterious yet functional! They serve many purposes, yet were designed for just one.

Lockers line the halls and stand at attention, ready to greet clients daily. Their contents vary; from textbooks and notebooks to lunches and letters, lockers keep our things safe ... or, at least, out of the way.

Although every student is assigned a locker, some are forced to share one due to the enormous number of freshmen. While sharing a locker may be inconvenient, others find the location of their locker to be more of a burden than a convenience. Most students carry many of their text books, note books pens, and pencils from class to class in a backpack due to the short passing time and the large distance. While storage seems to be their most obvious purpose, students find alternative uses for their lockers as well. Some use them as a gathering place, while others use them as backdrops for birthday decorations and to encourage team spirit. Decorating lockers proves to be the perfect way to brighten someone's day.

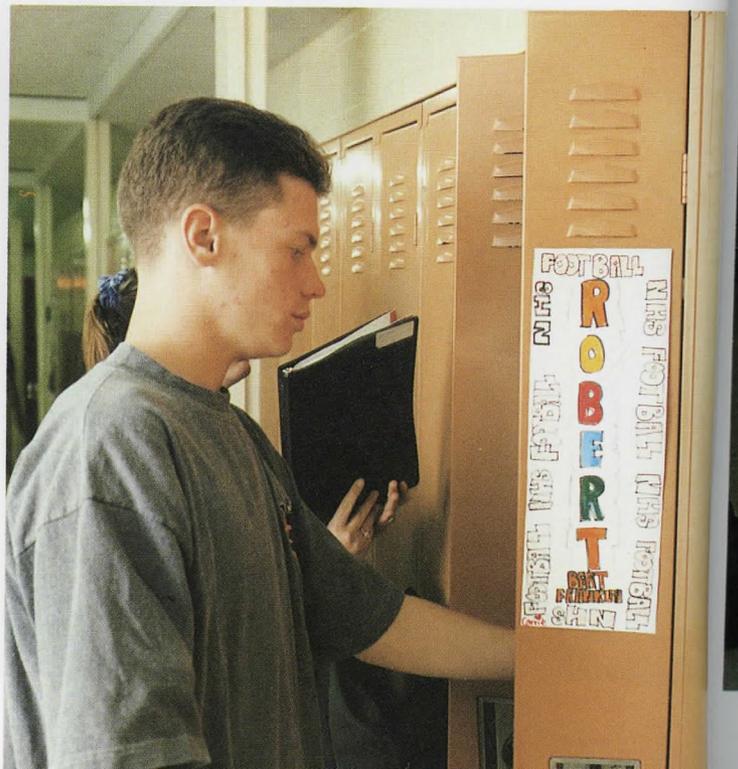

Without them, being prepared for class would be more difficult. Besides, where else would we hang our coats?

From the Same Block

For some students, the school day is shared not only with friends, but with family as well. Many find themselves passing a brother or sister on the way to the breakfast table and in the hallways at school.

For these siblings, getting ready for school is more difficult. The reason? Because there is more than one person getting ready at the same time. Some solve bathroom congestion by getting up earlier than their sibling, while others just sleep in later.

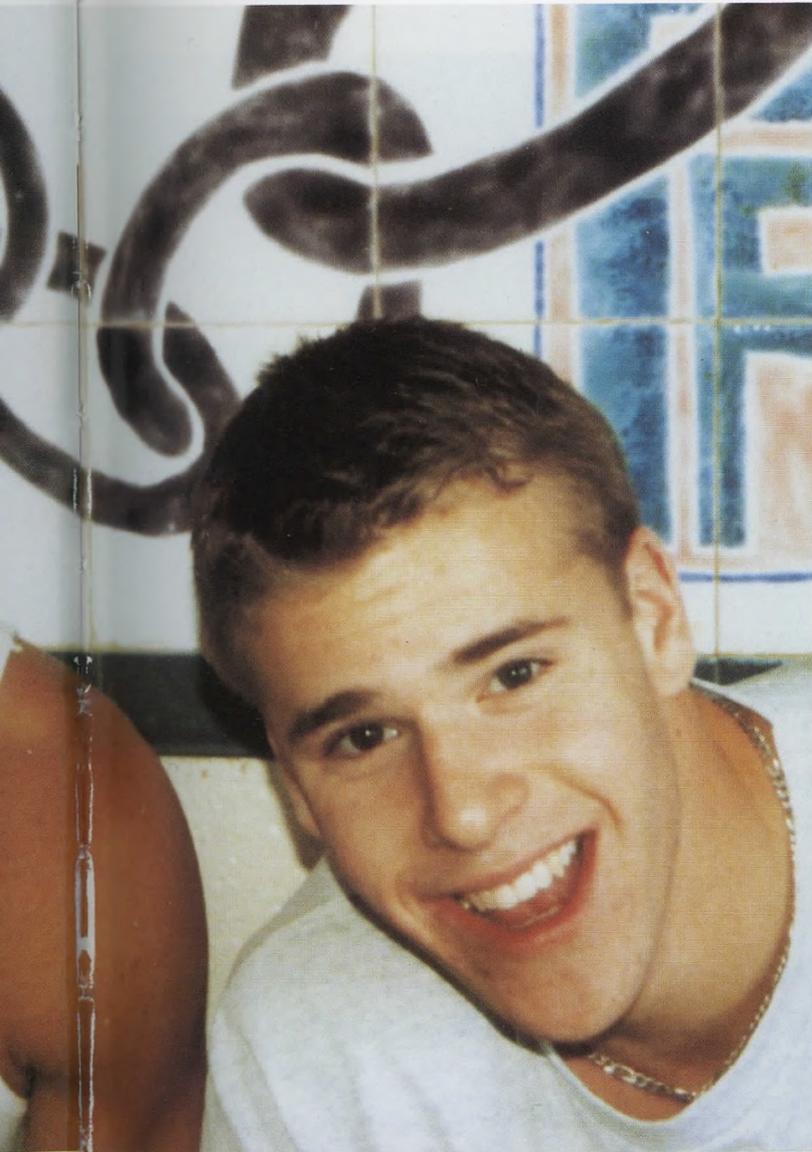

There are pros to having a sibling in the same school: free rides to school, getting to know more people more quickly, getting some help on homework. "My sister is in my biology class, we work together on our homework," explains freshman, Renee Ascione. But there are also negative aspects to having a brother or sister in the same school. Teachers tend to compare siblings with each other in terms of grades and mannerisms which can be a big drawback for some students. Others may not get along with their sibling.

Some siblings have unique problems. Twins and triplets are often mistaken for their mirror image; "It gets crazy when my brother's girlfriends think that I am him," says senior Tony Clemens.

Having a sibling in the same school can have many pros and cons. But the pros easily out weigh the cons in the long run.

Mental Block

They are difficult to face. Most of us dread them, but we all overcome them, somehow. They seem to arrive without warning and signal the beginning of another long week of school.

For the students of Northville High School, Monday mornings tend to result in chaos. . . or exhaustion.

The reason? Many are up late on Sunday nights completing last minute homework assignments. Others are simply used to the additional hours of sleep that the weekends provide. "On Monday mornings, people act like they are in the movie 'Night of the Living Dead,'" said freshman Jesse Martin.

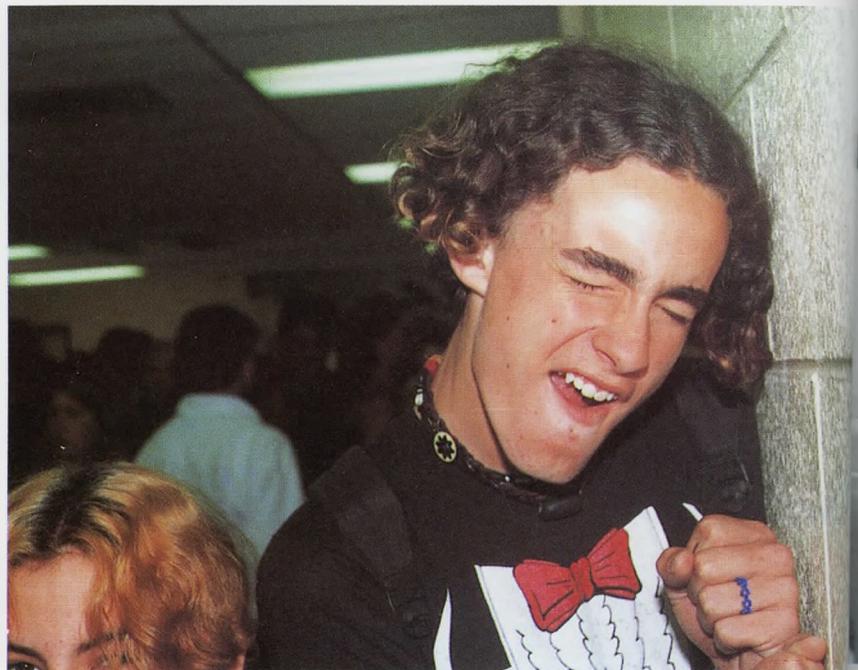

Some students do what they can to start the week off right. "Since Monday morning is the official end of the weekend, I like to eat a different kind of cereal to end it right," said junior Rachel Oprea.

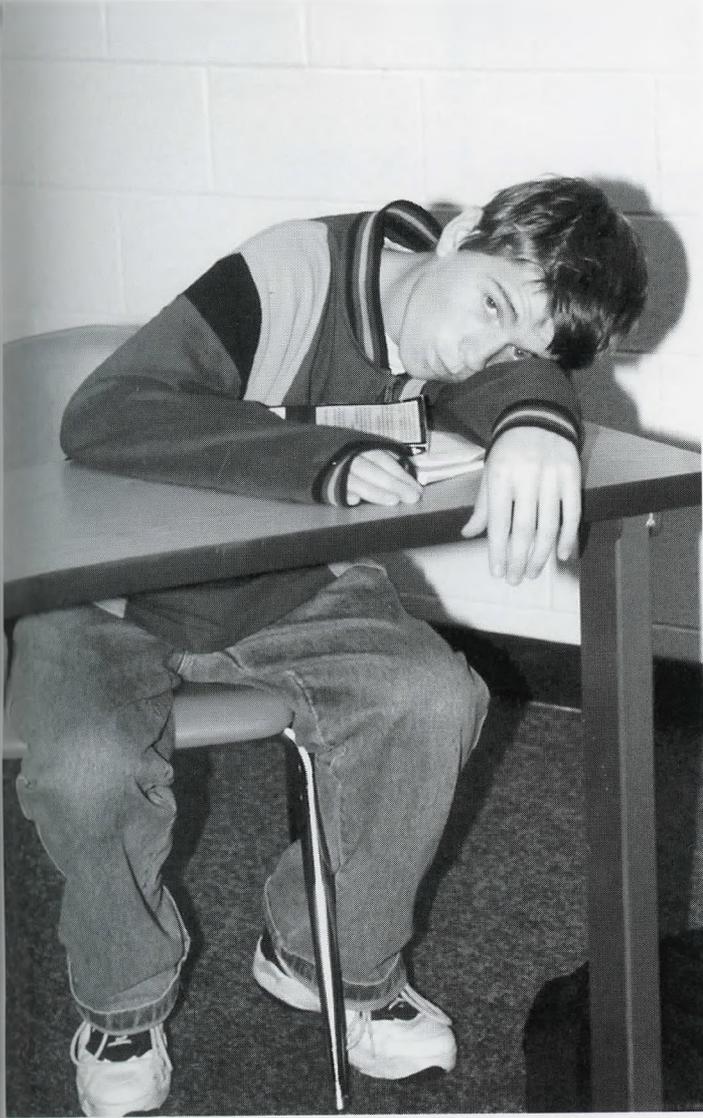

Not only are students more sleepy on Monday mornings, silly things tend to happen as well: stumbling in the hallway, running into walls, and, most often, coming late to school. Despite the number of tired, yawning, baggy-eyed students, Monday mornings are survivable. And just four more days until Friday!

By catching up on current events, junior Mat Spisak starts his Monday morning off right

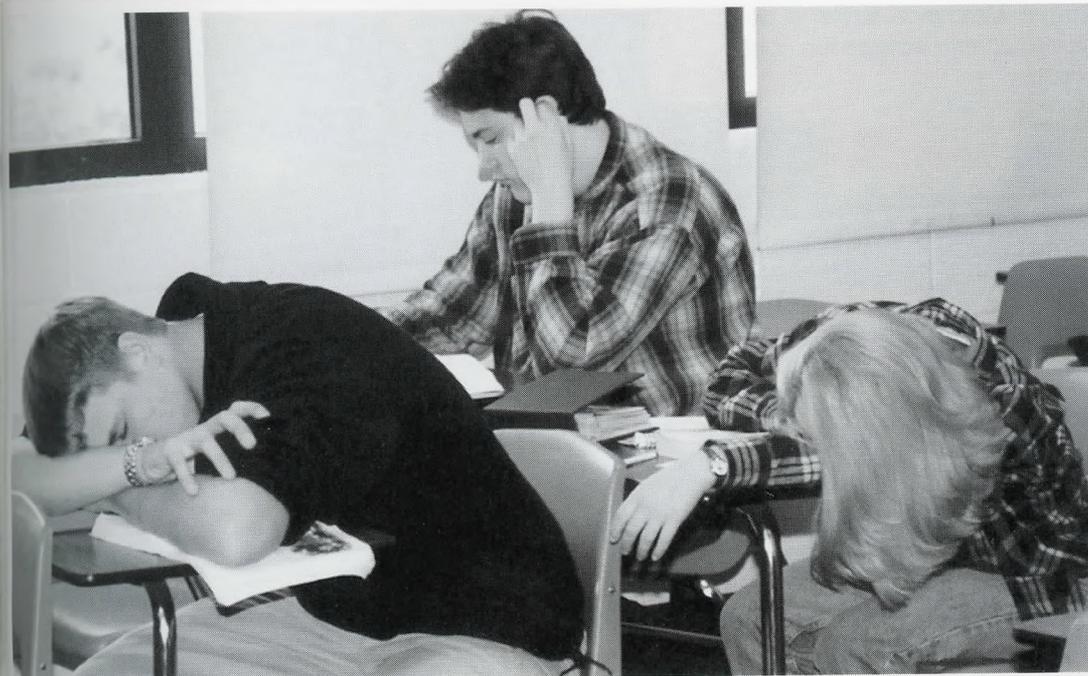

With a expression that speaks volumes, sophomore Sean Corcoran displays his attitude toward Mondays

Another sleepy Monday morning, senior Aidanas Andrulaitis struggles to stay awake

With just minutes remaining before first period begins, junior Andy Borda catches some final "z's" while senior Andy Manore finishes some last minute homework

Destination NHS

When asked how they arrive to school, many students shared the same answer: by car. Seniors are thrilled to finally have the opportunity to drive themselves and have access to the parking lot. Due to the shortage of space, those without a pass are stuck searching for room on the back hill. This area is usually swarming with crowds of impatient parents and students. Walking is almost deadly and parking is never guaranteed. Most upperclassmen agree, however, that despite the draw backs, driving with friends definitely beats taking the bus. They can leave their houses later and ride with friends. In addition, those with cars have complete control over the radio.

Less fortunate students are forced to ride the school bus, a.k.a. "the big twinkie." Complaints range from early pick up times (some stops are before seven o'clock) to sardine-like conditions. On the bright side, bus riders have time to see friends or listen to their walkmen. A few even do homework. Look out for the bumps!

Block of Gold

After a long, stress-filled day, not all students get to go home and relax. Instead, they have the "pleasure" of going to a part-time job. For these students, time management is essential.

The starting times of part-time jobs vary. Some students start work right after school and are finished by 7 P.M.. Others don't begin until 5 P.M. and work late, often until 10 or 11 o'clock at night. How do these working students manage to fit it all in? By budgeting their time carefully, "I go home and hurry around the house, dazed and trying to get stuff done before I go to work," said Amy Morris, who works at Mervyn's California, "I grab a snack, try to sneak in a shower, and E-mail my friends."

Students work to pay for cars or to save money to buy a car. Sometimes, parents encourage students to work part-time to learn responsibility. Whatever the reason may be, working takes up a lot of time. To be able get good grades and work requires careful budgeting of time. Many students do all of that, and we are very proud of them.

Football

Northville High School's Varsity Football Team had a successful season this year. The team worked hard to rebound from an 0-2 start by defeating their next three opponents. The last of those three wins was an outstanding Homecoming victory over Livonia Franklin.

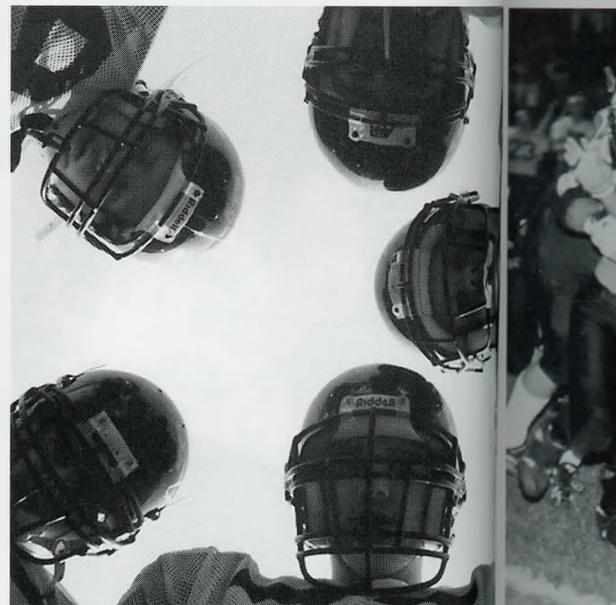

Quarterback Rob Reel lead the potent Mustang passing attack. The other end of that connection was held up by wide receivers Ben Keetle, Adam Tibble, Eric Champion, and captain Jeff Husak. A young offensive line led by senior guard Tim Velzy played well above expectations. Other members of the O-line were Eric Foster, Chris Lebis, Jeff Scott, and Ted Bowersox. Tight ends included Brian Shields and Marshall Knapp. Following these big men was the punishing running back Chris Whittington.

The defense was one of the toughest run-stoppers in the league. The linebacking core was lead by senior captains Mike Livanos and Rob Abbott. The defense was held up in the middle by sophomore Steve (George) Jameson and the small but powerful defensive end Bryan Grider. Nick Wells, Ryan McCracken, Evan Demers, and Ryan Giles also helped carry the load. Senior safety Geno Peters lead the team with interceptions. Ryan Morris, Andy Deacon, Justin Dille, Adam Hill, and Colin MacFarlane rounded out the defensive backfield. Kicker/punter Adam Tibble was one of the state's finest.

Cross Country

The NHS girls's Cross Country Team had a very impressive season this year. Under the leadership of our inspiring coach, Chris Cronin, and captains, Allison Murphy and Christine Mattis, we finished 2nd in our division. First runner, Christin Kolarchick, led the team to several victories. She was named to the WLAA all conference team. Newcomer Anna Schovers and Colleen Thompson proved valuable additions to the team. Everyone improved greatly over the course of the season, especially our little freshmen. We also performed very well at our invitationals, bringing home three 2nd places and a 1st place trophy. Through teamwork and dedication, we made this season successful. Losing none of our 7 varsity runners next year, the future looks bright. Congratulations, girls, on a great season. We survived el nino!

Hard work and perseverance paid off for the NHS boys Cross Country Team as they captured their first Western Lakes Division title in fifteen years. Captain Tim Schovers and Todd Emaus led the way to an undefeated season with a consistent string of personal best times. Their victory over defending champion, Walled Lake Western, and Plymouth Canton launched the Mustang juggernaut. Junior Kevin Arbuckle, the Mustang's lead runner, notched seven consecutive victories. Twice voted the team's Most Valuable Athlete, Kevin was named to the WLAA all conference team. He placed 5th at the state regional meet. The team also performed well at several of their invitationals, taking 1st place at the Redford Union invite. Congratulations on a successful season, guys!

Women's Swimming

The Diving team takes the plunge with a perfect 10

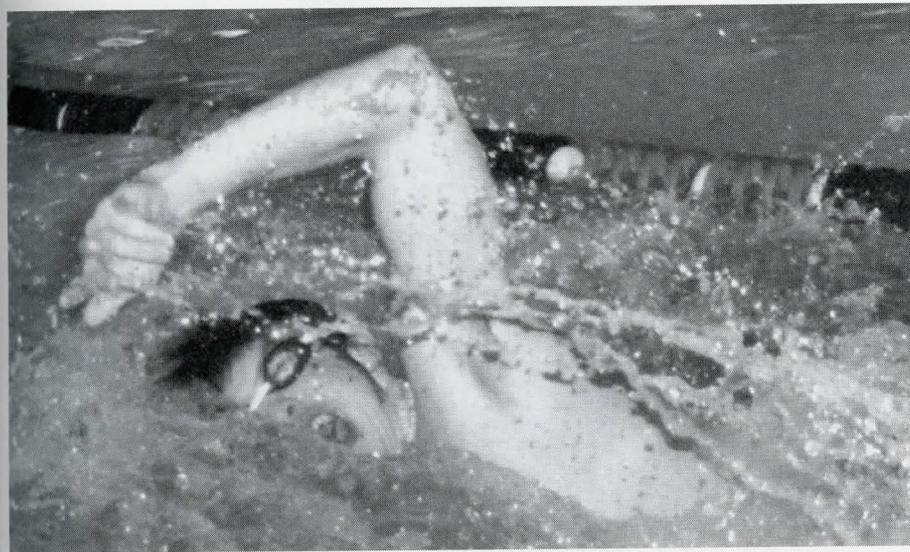

The 1997-98 girls swimming and diving team had an impressive season this year. The captains, Karen Fischer, Alice Callan, and Kristen Warnke, led the girls to five victories this season. The girls splashed their way to victory at their only home meet. Their league competitor, Harrison, was no match for the spirit-filled Mustangs. The 200 medley relay: Leah Voytal, Alice Callan, Kristen Warnke, and Steph Sabo and 400 free relay: Steph Sabo, Jessica Hrivnak, Leah Voytal, and Kristen Warnke, qualified for the state meet. Kristen Warnke qualified for 1000 fly and placed 13th overall. Karen Fischer placed 18th in the regional meet for diving. Congratulations girls for a great season.

Women's Basketball

The 1997 women's Varsity Basketball Team started off the season on the right foot with a championship trophy at the South Lyon tournament.

With experience, depth and plenty of talent, Northville High School featured one of the state's best hoop squads participating in the very competitive Western Lakes Conference. The team's experience comes from the six seniors: Lori Carbott, Julie Flis, Lecia Harmer, Christine Herndon, Karla Kalso and Lauren Metaj.

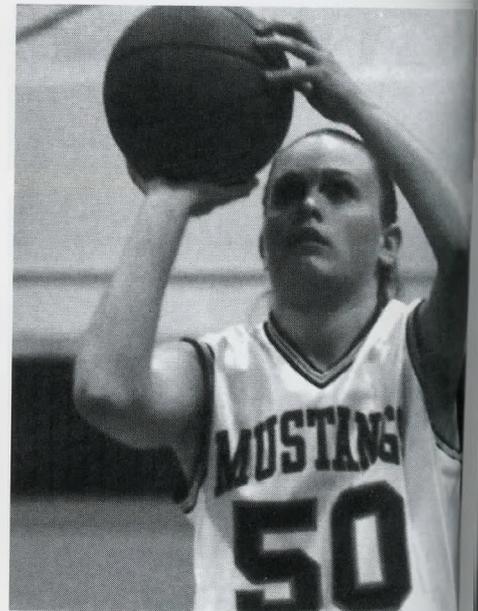

Senior guard Lauren Metaj was the first player in school's history to surpass 1,000 points while playing all four years at Northville High School. Lauren also received WLAA All Conference. Julie Flis was awarded WLAA All Division, while both Lori Carbott and Christine Herndon received honorable mention.

Varsity finished fourth in the Western Lakes Conference with a 14-7 record. Junior varsity and freshman also had winning seasons with records of 13-7 and 9-7 respectively. Congratulations!!!

Men's Soccer

The 1997-1998 soccer season was the most successful in Northville's history. For the first time ever at Northville High School, the men's varsity team, led by captains Joshua Brugeman and Sam Vida, won the District Title and then moved on to the Regional Competition and lost in the finals. All conference went to Sam Vida, while Dave Terakedis and Eric Arnold won All Division titles. Also, Eric Arnold received 3rd All State. In addition to winning the District Title, the Varsity Team was runner-up in the Detroit Country Tournament. The Junior Varsity Team had a very successful season as well. They defeated many of the tougher schools and should be a dominant power in the future.

Hockey

The 1997-98 school year welcomed a new edition to the sports scene here at Northville. The Northville Varsity Hockey Team skated into it's inaugural season with much success. The team was made up of players that have set the foundation for what will be needed for a successful program. They played a competitive brand of hockey and took many teams by surprise with their skill and determination. The team was led by captains Kevin Boone, Tom Nappo, and Justin Waineo. There were nine seniors on the team and they all contibuted to this outstanding first season. As a first year team, the Mustangs were at a 50% win percentage or better for most of the season. The coaching staff was proud of each and every player's commitment and dedication to making this season a success. Congratulations to everyone involved with the team for making this a memorable first season.

Women's Track

The 1997 girls track team reached unexpected heights with a 5-2 dual meet record and a second place divisional finish. The team was highlighted by terrific balance in all the events. The team's top sprinters included Christina Chase, Lauren Metaj, Emily Howland, Erica Winn, and Brigid Bowdell. Bowdell and Howland were all-area in the 100m and 200m respectively. Erica Winn was one of the premier hurdlers in the conference. Taking 3rd in the conference meet. Winn is the best hurdler to compete for Northville in the last decade. Additionally the middle and long distance runners dominated the competition. Lori Delano was the teams top 800m runner. While Kristen Kolarchick was tops in the mile. In the 3200m, Karen Loeffler made significant improvements while running a variety of events. The fiels events were also a strong area for the Mustangs. Christy Mimikos was the team's top shot and discus thrower. Rachel Gorshak also contributed some quality throws in the discus. With all of the top performers returning for the 1998 campaign, Northville should vault to the top of the conference with one of there best teams ever.

Baseball

Being an even year, 1998 should bode well for the Mustangs. In 1994 Chuck Apligian, Dave McCulloch, and Jason Rice led Northville to a division championship. In 1996 Tommy Willerer, Nate Fornet, Kyle Hitchcock, and Jamie Belanger led the Mustangs to another division championship. Willerer then shut-out Walled Lake Central as Northville captured its first Western Lakes Championship since 1984. Coach Mickey Newman, 5th season, expects the Mustangs to vie for the crown once again.

This year, the pitching staff is very deep with seven or eight players expected to get some innings on the mound. Offensively, the Mustangs have a combination of speed at the top of the order mixed in with contact and power hitters throughout the order. There should not be an easy out one through nine. Defensively, Northville looks particularly strong up the middle.

Lets hope another even year brings another championship to the Mustang Baseball Program.

Pom Pon

The Northville High school Varsity Pom Pon Team once again welcomed a successful season for the 1997-1998 school year. The team had a year of triumph and new experiences under the leadership of Anna Marciscotti. Reigning sixth in the state of Michigan, the team began the year with a bang! While at summer camp, the girls won first place in their original routine and second place in kickline and speed learning. They entertained the crowds at pep rallies, football games, soccer games, and boys basketball games during halftime. In addition to supporting the sports, the team attended the annual regional and state competitions. Through their hard work and devotion, the team had an excellent season full of smiles and memories. Good Luck Seniors!!!

Cheer

The 1997-1998 Cheer Team had a wonderful season this year. All of these squads, under the Supervision of Tracie Surdue, Annie Bondy, and Carrie Faulkner, practiced three times a week focusing on their cheer competitions. The girls participated in Regional, League, and National competitions in categories of dance, cheer and stunting. In addition to competing, the squads supported the football and boys basketball teams by cheering at all home and away games. The cheer team had a terrific season filled with memories and smiles. We will miss the seniors. Good Luck Seniors!

Senior Poem

The summer was over And high school was here
We roamed the hallways With big seniors to fear
Homecoming came And our limos arrived
Mom and dad picked us up We wished we could drive
We beat '97 With our sweet iceberg float
When Ford announced the winners We just had to gloat
Laurie Stewart paid a visit And the whole school cried
She taught us good values Like kindness and pride
We needed money for prom, But we didn't want to have to beg
So we sold tons of pizzas Which made us gag
They said a spring break flower sale Couldn't be done
Proving '98 rules We sold every last one
Those late Wednesday mornings Always brightened the day
Some of us slept in While others partied away
No longer the youngest, Sophomore year was grand
All confidant now With our car keys in hand
Our elephant float Went up in a breeze
The Freshman class beat us With their parents trapeze
We beat out the seniors In the great tug of war
Our big sophomore victory Made the class roar
Freshman year gone two more to go
Sophomore was a drag Can't wait for GI Joe
Junior year started Out with a blast
Homecoming came It was too good to last
We were already for the sixties The rivalry began
The posters went up This was not the plan
Assigned the fifties We gave them their hand
One more defaced poster And we would be banned
We stomped through the halls In our militia gear
'97' was terrified It was no longer their year
The pep rally came, our army attacked
We battled our class in orange and black
Our Magazine sale, We thought nobody bought
Only two-thousand in profits who would of thought?
At this point in time They all thought we were poor
Little did they know We had phat cash in store
The Valentine surveys Made everyone smile
Call up your match It could be worth your while Every Sunday We spent slaving at the dome
Cooking dogs, popping popcorn and cleaning up foam
Thanksgiving with the lions Was not very fun
Instead of a turkey We ate a hot dog and a bun
As the weather became warmer Senioritus was there a completed homework assignment became very rare
We headed off to the tropics By boat or by plane
Months before guys started work out they are so vain
Hyatt was the place for 1998
Everybody was worried about Who would be their date
Serenading by Clapton's "You Look Wonderful Tonight"
We danced as the magician Made animals that looked just right
Graduation is here Gathered together once more
We contemplate our future As we open another door.

Class of '99

Once again the Junior class of 1999 has had a prosperous year. Again this year our Victorian Festival stand was a enormous success. Some other fund-raisers included concession stands, hot chocolates and cookie sales, cider and donut sales, and can and bottle drives. The Junior class officers put forth extra energy to make this year even more successful than the past. Officers included President Christina Chase, Vice President Nikki LaLonde, Secretary Kelly DeLeonardis, and Treasurer Katie Spillane. With more participation from our class, our second place King Kong float would have gotten first place. But we can surely say we are the class bonded together to make the "class of 1999!"

Choir

The 1997-98 year for the choir department was tremendous. Under the direction of Mary Kay Pryce and a new addition, Lexie Bopp, the four choirs and three ensembles were quite successful. In addition to popular seasonal concerts, the choirs recorded a Holiday CD, participated in Solo and Ensemble, and finished the year with a trip to Washington D.C. The three Ensembles also had a terrific year. The girls group, The Treblemakers, entered the Solo and Ensemble competition and qualified for states as did the mens group, Backbeat. The Elite Northville Singers qualified for states and competed for the Youth Festival as well as singing at the nations capital. That raps up this year's choir season, and as always, good luck singers.

Student Congress

Joshua Brugeman, along with the Student Congress officers Adam Tibble, Christine Mattis, Chrissie Matela, and Angela Kovalak, led the student congress to much success this year. Through hard work and commitment, many community services were added to the congress's accomplishments.

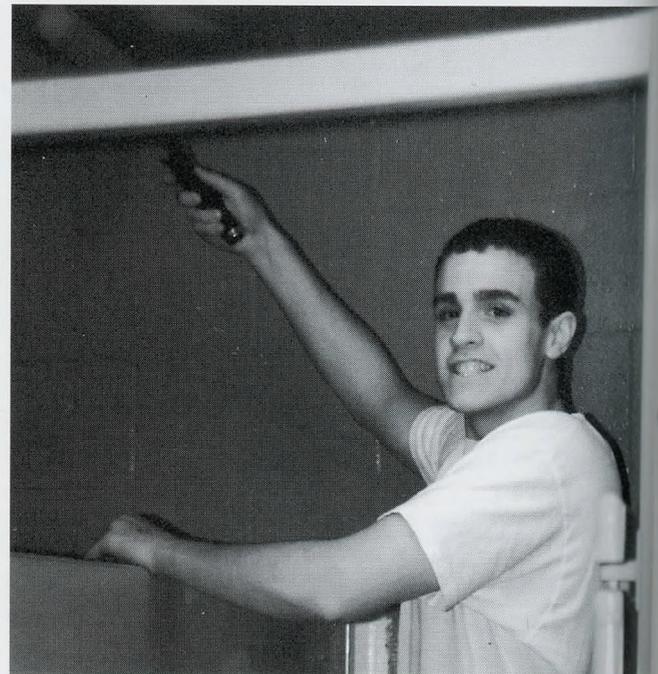

Homecoming had a Hollywood theme and the teachers were encouraged to involve themselves in the daily activities. Our first ever outdoor pep rally without a doubt lifted the school's spirit.

To raise money for the Adopt-a-Family during the holidays we sponsored an after school activity at Novi Bowl. This first annual Turkey Bowl had high attendance and participation throughout the frames. We then took the money we raised and provided our Adopt-a-Family with a Thanksgiving and a Christmas. Another community project the congress successfully took on for a second year was Paint-the-Town.

Student Congress also brought back teacher appreciation by delegating alternate school groups to provide doughnuts on Friday mornings for teachers. We also bought and delivered mugs filled with candy to the teachers.

In the same light of improving the school, the congress cleaned, repainted, and decorated the student bathrooms. The student congress of 97-98 was definitely one of the most school and community involved ever!

Peer Mediation

Peer Mediation is a process whereby the students identify, negotiate, and develop solutions to conflicts that arise during the school day. The mediators undergo extensive training in a structured process. Peer mediators benefit the school by creating an atmosphere of peaceful coexistence and cooperation. Students learn problem-solving skills and approaches to conflict resolution.

National Honor Society

National Honor Society is an organization of students who work in a variety of community service programs. Under the guidance of sponsors, Chris Cronin and Lisa Rohde, and the leadership of student officers, the National Honor Society participates in many different service activities to receive credits. Some of the programs include holding canned food drives, tutoring, Paint The Town, and ringing bells for the Salvation Army. Each member not only must meet the credit requirement, but also must maintain above a 3.5 grade point average.

Exchange Students

Max Maihorn is 16 years old and from Germany. His hobbies include running cross country, track, soccer, and all sports. His best experience in America so far has been running cross country with a great team. He thinks the best part of American culture is school sports and school spirit. He finds American teenage relationships interesting because few girls would date younger guys. Max thinks the worst part of American culture is that Americans don't care about the environment. He's also discovered that American food isn't made for European stomachs. He believes the funniest aspect about American culture is how people driving jeeps wave to other people in jeeps, even if they don't know each other. He misses his girlfriend, friends, Berlin's big city atmosphere, and the food. When he gets home he plans to go to school for two or three more years. Then he plans on going to a University to become a teacher, maybe in the U.S. Max would like to thank his host family, the Otts, the cross country team, and all the other people that helped him during the first hard months in Northville.

Matthias Egge is a 17-year-old from Switzerland. His hobbies include snowboarding, tennis, and beach volleyball. His favorite experience so far has been meeting the entire Detroit Pistons team and also going to Florida. He finds it interesting that Americans are very patriotic, but tolerant of different races. He thinks the best thing about American culture is Christopher Columbus. He misses his parents, friends, and the mountains. When he gets back to Switzerland, he plans to attend three more years of high school and then college. He has found his American experience to be very exciting.

Barbara Hovelmann is a 17-year-old from Germany. Her hobbies include volleyball, hanging out with her friends, and playing the piano. She finds her experience in America to be a good one. She likes how everything is just a little bit different to make things interesting. She enjoys the diversity of cultures in America. She thinks the funniest thing about American culture is Halloween. She misses the people in her country. When she gets back to Germany, she plans to finish school. She believes staying with an American family for a long time is a good experience.

Eszter Doros is a 16- year- old from Hungary. Her hobbies include movies, listening to music, and reading. She has enjoyed experiencing a new culture and a new school. Her best experience has been her visits to Texas, Disneyworld, and Chicago. She finds people here to be more friendly than in Hungary. She finds it interesting that America has no mass transportation system. The school system is very different from Hungary's. The worst part of America is that it is expensive. She thinks it is funny that people greet each other in the halls with, "Hey, what's up," but they don't wait for an answer. She misses her friends, family, and Hungarian food. When she gets back to Hungary she plans to take two more years of high school and then attend a university. She would like to thank her host family, the Eules.

Theodore Ivanov is a 17- year -old from Bulgaria. His hobbies include soccer, basketball, ping pong, volleyball, and chess. His best experience so far has been his trip to Chicago. He thinks the best thing about American culture is the kindness and honesty of the people. He finds the computers and technology highly advanced. However, he doesn't like the casualness of society because there is little discipline. The funniest thing about American culture is Disneyland, and the openness of the people. He misses his family the most. When he gets back to Bulgaria, he hopes to prepare for college. His advice to American students is to "Work hard, be kind."

Lukas Scherak is a 15 -year- old from Austria. His hobbies include skiing, cycling, playing the piano, and soccer. He finds the people in America very nice and caring. He likes the different atmosphere of America. He finds it interesting that Americans are rarely considered late for anything. His worst experience has been that for dinner there is always turkey, pasta, or pizza. The worst thing about American culture is fast food. He finds it funny that everybody has more than two phones in the house. He misses beef and the mountains for skiing. When he gets back to Austria, he plans to go back to school, graduate, and study somewhere in Europe. He has found his visit to Northville to be a fun and worthwhile experience. He would like to thank his host family for spending a lot of time with him.

Forensics

For students striving to increase their confidence and poise, Forensics has been the solution in overcoming such a challenge. This public speaking organization provides students with an opportunity to sample everything from genre dramatic interpretation to Original Oratory to Extemporaneous Speaking. It provides members with the opportunity of individual achievement steaming towards a total team score. Under the guidance of Coach Cheryl Gazlay, the young speakers train individually for monthly meets. In addition to the speaking skills that are built comes a personal growth that is experienced by many of the participants. Qualifiers for the National Tournament will compete in Detroit during the Memorial Day weekend.

High Adventure

The High Adventure Club is open to all students who are interested in indoor and outdoor challenge activities. This year the club sponsored three trips. In October, we had a weekend camp out at Island Lake State Park. While we were there, we learned about outdoor cooking and camping techniques, did some hiking, and got to know each other. In January, we went to Muskegon for a weekend of lugging, cross-country skiing, and sledding. In June we will sponsor a trip to Ohiopyle, Pennsylvania, where we will whitewater raft, explore caves, mountain bike, rock climb, hike, and camp. These types of intense activities teach self-confidence and teamwork. All interested students are encouraged to participate!

Adopt- a - Student

As in past years, the Adopt - A - Student program was successful. Mr. Maile led the organization and helped new students adjust to Northville High School. The members are matched up with the new students based on interests. The Adopt-A-Student volunteers help the new students find their way to their classes, provide a familiar face during the first few lunch periods, and guide them through the first after-school activities. "Adopters both" make new friends and benefit from this experience.

Der Deutsche Verein

Dieses Jahr machte der deutsche Verein viel! Am Anfang des Jahres, wählten wir neue Beamten. Unsere Präsidentin war Kara Guminski, unsere Unter Präsident war Charles Fan, unser Schatzmeister war Eric Connell, und unsere Sekretarin war Lisa Tellish. Natürlich eine verrückte Gruppe!

Im Oktober hatten wir unser jährliches Oktoberfest im Heinz Park. Es machte immer Spaß, weil wir aßen und spielten. Im November, backten wir für einen Gebäcksverkauf. Wir bekamen viel Geld, weil alles was wir machten immer so gut schmeckte!

Der Verein feierte Weihnachten durch ein paar Aktivitäten. Von November bis Dezember, hatten wir einen Weihnachtsbaumverkauf. Die Bäume waren schön und mit dem Verkauf kam viel Geld. Dann, am 13. Dezember, hatten wir eine Fete bei Kara. Wir aßen, sahen Filme, und spielten "Party Quirks." Es war die lustigste Fete in der Geschichte vom Deutschen Verein!

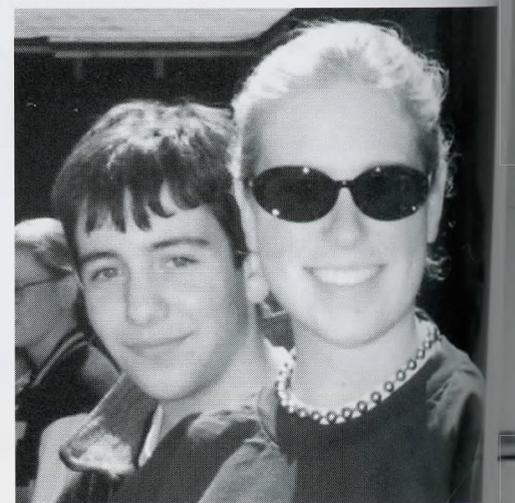

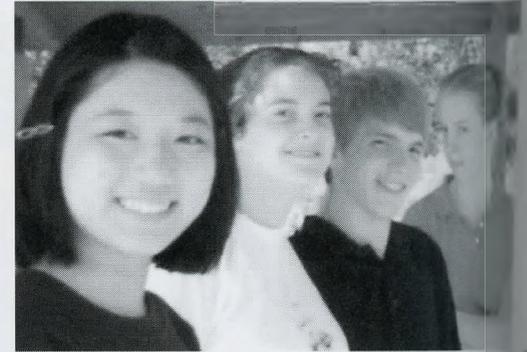

Im März, pflanzten wir eine Fremdsprachewoche. Mit der Hilfe von den Französischen und Spanischen Vereinen war es prima. Jeden Tag machten wir etwas Verschiedenes mit unserer Sprache, Die Beste Sprache, Die Deutsche Sprache!

Am Ende des Jahres gingen wir nach dem Deutschen Lager. Natürlich waren wir besser als die anderen Schulen mit Sprechen und Skizzen.

Im Hintersicht, war 1997 ein erfolgreiches Jahr. Hoffentlich wird nächstes Jahr besser sein!

Le Cercle Français

Les élèves de français se sont amusés cette année avec le Cercle français, un nouveau groupe formé en septembre de cette année. On fait des activités diverses pendant le séminar et après l'école. Voici quelques activités qui ont plu aux élèves pendant l'année scolaire: la visite des petits de Thorton Creek pour un échange de chansons de Noël (et la bouffe française). On a fêté aussi le <<Halloween>> comme on le fait au Canada.

The Russian Club

This year was the Russian Clubs second year together. People with intrest in russian tradition, language, or culture. Russian club members learned basic Russian, enough to be able to use public transportation, check into a hotel, or order a meal in a restaraunt. Russian Red Wing players were also invited to one of the meetings. Overall this was a great year, and we look forward to an even better one next year.

A.S.I.A Club

People always mistake A.S.I.A as a club for Asians only, but actually, it's an open membership club for those interested in Asia. A.S.I.A is sponsored by Mr. Ford and Mrs. Sole and is led by Silvia Chang, Will Ko, James Lee, and Sonal Prasad. This year's members enjoyed participating in a restaurant trip, Asian games, Asian weddings, and the celebration of Asian holidays. Many new members and non-Asians find it very interesting to learn about Asia. We hope people can join in and enjoy the fun next year.

Science Olympiad

What are the common uses of polypropylene? Construct the lightest possible bridge to withstand a force of over 100 lbs. These are some of the many challenges faced by the Science Olympiad team. Ranging in categories from Earth Science to Biology to Chemistry to Physics, members test their skills in selected areas. Coached by Mr. Sharrar and Mrs. Holmes, weekly meetings prepare the team for regional competition on March 14 at Crestwood. The increase in membership of underclassmen, is a sure sign of Science Olympiad's continuing success for the years to come.

Rotary Interact

In its fourth year at NHS, Rotary Interact is continually applying their motto "Service above Self" at the local and international levels. An increased membership of energetic students led projects to be completed efficiently and with great success.

This year, a theme among Rotary groups across the globe was an emphasis on education. In support of this, Interact undertook an international project of shipping over 100 backpacks along with hundreds of crayons, folders, protractors, etc. Also, Interact helped clean and repair orthopedic equipment in conjunction with feed the children program. These supplies will be sent overseas to a third world country where they are in high demand.

Locally, Interact has contributed to the Charlie Stilec fund, participated in the Hunger Coalition soup kitchen in Ann Arbor, and visited the White Hall convalescent home. Interact hopes to continue being the bridge between students and others in need.

Mustanger

The Northville High School Mustanger kept students and staff updated with what was happening in the school. Led by editor Heather Wadowski, the Mustanger looked better than ever thanks to the photography class and the internet publishing class. With the hard work of Mrs. Hall's Journalism class, the Mustanger continued to improve throughout the year.

Quiz Bowl

Quiz Bowl, the academic team sport modeled after "Jeopardy!", continued its success again this year. The new coaches, Mrs. Karen Motz and Mr. Tim Donahue, took the reins. Captain Steve Traicoff and the Varsity 1 team (Keith Droz, Charles Fan, Kristin Potchynok, Scott Piper, Marty Lenardon, and of course, Steve Traicoff) persevered to defeat bitter rival Plymouth Salem and capture a trophy at the Wolverine Fall classic Tournament. Exciting regional tournaments and the WLAA league provided difficult competition for the team. The Quiz Bowl program has grown with a large influx of new freshman members. This year, four teams were formed to compete in various varsity and junior varsity events to raise money for the self-funded program, team members conducted fund-raisers. Money earned at the Homecoming football game concession stand helped to pay entry fees for numerous tournaments. Northville's Quiz Bowl program continues to grow and thrive, showing much promise for future success.

WHIP

Popular musical artists like Dave Matthews Band, Bad Religion, Barenaked Ladies, Grateful Dead, and the Beatles greet students Friday mornings as the deejays of the WHIP spin their tunes and exchange banter over the airwaves of Northville High. In its third year of existence, the WHIP, an extension of Broadcast Writing and Production class, offers students an upbeat reminder that the weekend is nearly upon them. The WHIP thrives because devoted club members take turns rising even earlier than usual and coming to school in the pitch dark morning to put a little spring in the steps of their fellow classmates during the long, cold winter months. Whether it's classic rock or country, contemporary tunes or golden oldies, they fill the "sounds of silence" with their favorites -- and hopefully yours.

Yearbook

The 1997-98 Yearbook presented a challenge from the beginning. Our turnout was low, and remained low throughout the year. We realized a small, dedicated staff was much more effective than a large, unreliable staff. We quickly adjusted to our new setting in the basement, along with our new advisor, Julie Mokanyk. We experienced staying late nights at the high school, coming in over breaks, and deadlines that crept around every corner. We tried to incorporate a theme based on our new block schedule. Overall, this year's Palladium has been one to remember. Next year's yearbook staff will be embarking on a new journey, as it is scheduled to become a class. We would like to extend deepest appreciation and sincerest thanks to all who have helped us in desperate situations: Sue Mehta, Pete Lillemone, Diana Stadtmiller, Tony Noto, Janice Olson, and to the staff and students who made this yearbook possible.

MAD

The last weekend before school started, a group of representatives from each school organization met at Camp Tamarak to learn how to expand their "comfort zone" and work as a team more effectively. The group became the Make A Difference organization and is currently working on improving things here at NHS. A few of the group's goals included improving relationships between students and teachers, providing more hands-on learning activities, and reducing substance abuse problems. Camp was a great experience and we hope to make a big difference at NHS.

The Fall Play

In my four years at NHS, I have always looked forward to the Spring Musicals and (in all honesty) dreaded the fall plays. With the exception of the 1995 fall play, The Diary of Anne Frank. I've always found the fall plays to be very boring. That's why, when I found out that this year's play was a comedy, I was relieved. I was hoping that Nothing But the Truth would be a nice change from last year's The Crucible since it's a comedy, but then I remembered 1994 play, Harvey, and began to worry again.

Luckily, after seeing Nothing But the Truth, I realized that there was nothing to worry about. With a cast of fresh new faces, Nothing But the Truth definitely had its share of problems. For instance, two days before the opening night the lead female character (played by Megan Hiemstra) had completely lost her voice. But by opening night, all was well and Nothing But the Truth received rave reviews

Kenya Safari

Some students found last summer an exciting one traveling to Kenya with Mrs. LeBeouf. Mrs. LeBeouf has been taking students to Kenya for several years. The format of these trips basically stay the same, but with a few minor changes. This year, the travelers left on June 18, with a stop in Amsterdam. They went to the Samburu, Naburu, and Masai Mara National Parks, camped along side the Tara River, where they had the opportunity to go on a camel trek and spent time at the Thompson Falls and one and a half days in Nairobi. Lauren Gugala, Megan Cauzillo, Kristin Baja, Nikki LaLonde, and Margaret McClintock gave Mrs. LeBeouf a scare by jumping off a 40ft. cliff into a muddy river below. Thankfully no one was hurt. This trip will forever be in the minds of its travelers.

Italy/Greece

This summer a group of 40 travelers set out for Italy and Greece with Mr. Ford and Dr. Aune. The trip included a three day cruise to the Greek isles Mykonos, Patmos, Kusadasi, and Rhodes, and visits to Athens, Rome, Sorrento, Delphi, and Capri. The weather was beautiful. Ancient sights such as "The Lost City Of Pompeii," the Acropolis, and the Colosseum were awesome.

Good-Bye Charlie

Wondrous Sky

*I stare into the wondrous sky
 And ponder thoughts, like "Who am I."
 I hope that one day I'll finally see
 And when I do, Believe you me
 The whole wide world will know my name
 Through win or loss or fame or shame
 But fore you figure who you are you need someone too guide your star
 Charlie you're my shining sun
 Hero to each and every one
 You've straightened the path of many a child*

*With a tone of voice so soft and mild
 Quick to give a word of praise
 You lightened hearts and brightened days
 And though you've reached your grave too soon
 I pray each night under star and moon
 That you are up there watching me
 While I wait for God to set me free
 But until that fateful day
 Thoughts of you won't fade away.
 Your spirit, Charlie, will never die
 You'll live forever in the wondrous sky.*

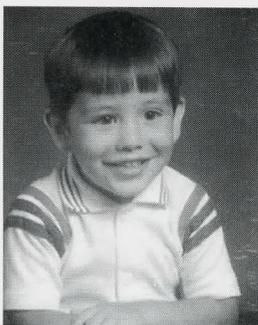

*I love you Mr.
 Seilec.*

*My sister, my best friend.
I remember your smile
that could light up the world.
I remember your generosity and care that touched the hearts of those around you.
I remember your love for life.
You came into my world,
and made life worth living.
You came into my world,
and you will never leave.
Your spirit and soul
will fill the void in my heart that the absence of your human presence has left.
I Love You.*

Jenn Moorhead

The end of the year has come too fast, will this block thing ever last?
We talk and listen with our freinds, and follow the road around the bends.
Students teach while teachers learn, thinking of our future as our brains continually churn.
The freshman still crowd the halls, while the seniors push through, creating brawls.
The spring is the time to say goodbye, for seniors to laugh and then to cry.
A sudden change can catch us off guard, and new adaptations can be so hard.
Soon history will be made on a new land, making a pearl from a grain of sand.
We take a moment to look at our past, while the future rushes at us all too fast.
On top of this hill more students will flock, as they hope to write the next chapter in the story of the block.
