Problem of the Day
Maggie is running for class president. A poll revealed that 40% of her classmates have decided to vote for her, 32% have decided to vote for her opponent, and 7 voters are undecided. If she needs 50% of the vote to win, how many of the undecided voters must vote for Maggie for her to win the election?

SLOPE: $\frac{\text{Rise}}{\text{Run}}$

Finding Slope Example:

$(2,3),(4,6)$

$m = \frac{\Delta y}{\Delta x}$

$m = \frac{6-3}{4-2}$

$m = \frac{3}{2}$

You would rise 3 & run 2.

This would be a positive slope.

Every year my family and I attend the Northville Memorial Day Parade. As we sit together on the new grass in the cemetery the twenty-one gun salute cuts through the warm spring air. I got chills down my back even though the air is hot and sticky while I think to myself how lucky I am to live in a country where freedom rings as loud as those guns.
