Northville To Connect with Huge Sewer System When Papers Are Signed

In Exchange for Land, No Connection Charges Are To Be Made to the Village; Project Has Been Under Way Since January, 1938; Plymouth Also To Benefit

INSTITUTIONS TO BE SERVED

The signature of the proper village officials and members of the Wayne County Road Commissioners is all that keeps Northville from being connected with the sewer project which is to serve Northville, Plymouth, Maybury sanatorium, the Wayne County Training school and the Detroit House of Correction.

It is expected that the signatures will be placed on the legal paper within a few days and the village will automatically become a unit in the system.

Members of the village council approved the attachment Monday evening, Aug. 21, and have arranged to make the connection without cost to the village. No connection

START WATER MAIN

Digging started Tuesday on the eight-inch water main from center street to the reservoir. This will go on out the Eight Mile road.

charges are to be paid by the village in lieu of the fact that it has exchanged for the service which is used for the septic tank near the fairgrounds.

The project has been under way since January, 1938. The unit which embraces Northville, also serves as an outfall for all of the existing toilet facilities of the seven and one-half mile parkway. Chlorination of the flow in the parkway sewer is done at a point near the outlet before discharging it into the Rouge River. It is proposed that in the future, as the parkway is extended westward, the interceptor will also be extended and will ultimately be connected to the Detroit or Dearborn sewers.

The sewage service will be charged upon the basis of the sewage disposal service rate as determined by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors.

Uniform rates to persons, firms, public bodies or private corporations using the system, determined by the Wayne County Board of Supervisors, will be collected by the village from all users and consumers of water receiving county sewage service.

Drum-Bugle Corps To Make Public Appearances

The Northville Drum and Bugle Corps has a full late summer schedule.

Today the group, under the leadership of Andrew Torok, is appearing at the South Lyon Homecoming festival.

The Tigers and Yanks will make their way to the State fairgrounds Saturday, Aug. 26, for an exhibition game. The Drum and Bugle Corps will be right there to perform, too.

When Farmington has its homecoming Saturday, Sept. 2, the Corps will be on hand to give the occasion a festive air.

And it may be that the Drum and Bugle Corps will be asked to play during the State Fair, Sept. 1-10.

Farm Patrons Guests of Twin Pines Aug. 23

Over 400 farm patrons, their families and friends, were guests of the Twin Pine Farm Dairy Wednesday afternoon at the farm on Base Line road.

Mr. Holmes, president of the company and M. J. Koldyze, vice-president and manager, were acclaimed royal hosts as the patrons enjoyed a bounteous dinner, ice cream, and all other dishes and drinks that go to make a real picnic. Following dinner, served at tables in the grove, the afternoon was spent in sports and games that appealed to all ages.

During the day's festivities, ample opportunity was accorded the patrons of Twin Pine Farm Dairy to inspect the new and enlarged facilities of the company, which only a few years ago had a humble building in a small building about 52 feet long, which is now almost lost in the large units that now represent the ever-increasing business of the company and the popularity of their quality dairy products.

WANT PICTURES OF NEW HOMES

The Northville Record desires to obtain a picture of every newly erected home in Northville or within a five-mile radius of the village for publication purposes.

Early in September, the Record desires to publish pictures of new homes built in this area. The Record wants to miss no one. Help in locating, and providing a picture of new home construction, will be appreciated.

Wednesday Was Best First Day at Fair; Running Races Create Grandstand Thrills

Marianne and Mickey Are Favorites

Marianne, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nate Shapero of Apple Creek farm on the Eight Mile road, made a splendid showing in the Junior Horse Show with Mickey. She was first in the saddle pony class and took first place again with Mickey in the local ponies class which was open to boys and girls living within a 10-mile radius of the village.

With the gates closed on the Twenty-Third Northville Wayne County Fair, President Elmer Smith and Secretary Dayton Bunn, along with the directors and superintendents, are commenting that the four-day educational and entertainment enterprise was "very nice."

A tabulation of the gate receipts reveals that Wednesday was the best first day the fair has ever known. And has almost become traditional, Thursday was high day.

"It is the general opinion that the running races brought new blood to the fair, bringing to the grounds more young fairgoers than oldtimers, filling the grandstands almost to capacity during the entire four days.

The amateur contest, Thursday evening, brought winning honors to Betty Jane Gustafson of Novi. The high school team, under the direction of Leslie G. Lee, did much to set a gala pace for the program each day. Bands from Wayne and Plymouth gave the Wednesday evening stage show a performance that pleased music lovers.

The Saturday afternoon stock parade included the aristocrat of the livestock division, including the prize winning horses of the following owners: Boslin and Blackwell of Northville, William Ritchie of Plymouth, W. B. Chase of Chass, Mayor, Northville, Lawrence Hamilton and Mussell Bros. of South Lyon, Oran North of Fowlerville, Joe Hill, Northville. In the cattle section, the winners came from the farms owned by Graham S. Bodwell of Oxford (formerly belonging to Mickey Cochrane), S. Mead farms of Northville, Glenn Bancroft of Flint, Vern DeCamp of Stockbridge, Charles Bray of Williamston, Merley Dustin and John Carver, Jr., of Ann Arbor, Charles Graves of Milford, E. E. Wood of Wayne and Eloise hospital.

Rev. Fr. Joseph Schramm Gives 10 Rules for Fall Living in First Village Club Talk

SUGGESTS HOBBY

Speaking before the Northville Rotary club Tuesday noon, the Rev. Fr. Joseph Schramm, pastor of Our Lady of Victory Catholic church, outlined 10 rules for mental health. Father Schramm spoke fluently and brought a message which was timely, interesting and instructive.

Rules for Mental Health

1. Have a hobby; acquire pursuits which absorb your interest.
2. Develop a philosophy; adapt yourself to social and spiritual surroundings.
3. Share your thoughts; cultivate companionship in thought and in feeling. Confide, confess, consult.
4. Face your fears; analyze them; daylight dispenses ghosts.
5. Balance fantasy with fact; dream, but also do; wish, but fulfill; imagine, but ever face reality.
6. Beware alluring escapes; alcohol, opiates and barbitals may prove faithless friends.
7. Exercise; walk, swim, golf; muscles need activity.
8. Love, but love wisely; sex is a flame which, uncontrolled, may become properly guided, it will light the torch of eternity.
9. Don't become reacquainted in a whirlpool of worries; call early for help. The doctor is ready for your rescue.

He began his serious training Thursday when he started taking target practice against his sparring partner. Bob's been doing his preliminary training at Saratoga, N. Y. He's confident about taking the title from Louis. "I'm older, stronger and more confident than when I fought Joe two years ago," he asserts.

Number of Children To Get Dental Aid Increases as Clinic Starts

A checkup revealed Wednesday afternoon that some 28 children had been given free dental treatment at the clinic which has been made possible through the Consent fund.

The clinic opened in the Northville kindergarten room in the grade school building Monday morning and will continue through Sept. 18.

Already 135 children have been placed on the approved list by the adult committee and the three Northville dentists. It is expected that even more children will be eligible for treatment before the clinic closes.

As was urged by Sup't. R. H. Amerman, the parents of children are cooperating splendidly in seeing that their children report promptly for their appointments, a factor which, it is understood, will go a long way toward determining whether or not the clinic service is to be available in Northville another year.

Dr. W. Zakrajsek is in charge of the clinic service. Miss Helen Winter is assisting in the office.

The adult committee, working with Mrs. Ida B. Cooke with the appointments and eligibility list, includes: Mr. Amerman, Mrs. Willard Ely, Mrs. John Litsenberger, Mrs. T. N. Kampf, Jr., Mrs. Orlov G. Owen, Mrs. W. H. Johnston and Mrs. Starr Bray.

LEST HE FORGET

Northville Is "Tops"

When it comes to putting on a county fair, Northville is "tops." Accused by some of catering to the "city folks a little too much and forgetting the farmer" a fair vision of the 1939 exposition belittles such predictions...

We've got to be thankful a week early, now, for the President has changed the calendars of the nation. Thanksgiving day is to be a week earlier this year.

"Northville Had Them All"

For quality, balance of strength in all departments, and general level of performance far exceeded anything in the Northville projects long and distinguished past.

More and more we are inclined to think that Governor Dickson will not get the nomination for governor in 1940.

Welcome the Brown Bomber

And now comes Joe Louis, world's champion heavy-weight. To Northville comes the "Brown Bomber" for intensive training and exhibition bouts leading up to his fight with Bob Pastor.

For the 15 scheduled public exhibitions will come thousands of fans. From the far corners of the county, travelling by train, bus, and auto sport fans will visit Northville and carry away impressions of "We Villagers" that will mean much for the fair name of Northville.

While some sarcastically kid as about our "Northville Tan," and deplore the setup as an object for good natured kidding, yet back of it all lies a vast field of those who see numerous advantages of publicity, of fame, and fortune that 10,000 cities in the U. S. A. would have gladly contributed tens of thousands of dollars to be accorded the privileges that are Northville's.

The Department of Commerce reports that business in the first six months of 1939 was one billion dollars better than the corresponding period of 1938.

Birthday congratulations to the Paper County Press, 100 years of age last week that excellent weekly paper published an 89-page centennial edition that would be a credit to any newspaper in America.

NORTHVILLE'S YESTERDAYS

One Year Ago

In an effort to obtain $18,000 from federal funds to be used to construct a $28,000 school building for the Salem Union school district, a second meeting and balloting will be held between 7 and 9 p. m. Aug. 26.

Concern over the direct relief for 6,500 families in the outcounty communities which was terminated Monday is felt in Northville, where despite three Federal projects that are under construction, some villagers remain dependent upon funds from the Wayne County Emergency Relief Commission.

The Junior Horse Show, following the pace set by the Senior Show, reaches a new peak this year under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Ravie Brown, drawing the largest number of entries in its history and by the same token leaving the largest number of blue ribbons in the village as evidence of the skill of Northville's young riders.

Wednesday evening W. B. and Waldo Elliott entertained the boys who, under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Ravie Brown, drawing the largest number of entries in its history and by the same token leaving the largest number of blue ribbons in the village as evidence of the skill of Northville's young riders.

The outlook for completion of the work that is going to transform Northville's often muddy principal business streets into smooth, paved thoroughfares directly connecting with Detroit is very encouraging, even to those pessimistic folk who have been prophesying that the job would not be finished before the autumn should put a stop to the getting.

Through this insurance program, Mr. Bird says, the Triple A is helping farmers get a more uniform income from year to year. Even in years when what crops are seriously damaged or totally destroyed, farmers will have at least 75 per cent of their normal yields on which they can depend.

FACTS FAVOR FORD
1 The 1939 Ford V-8 is a beautiful, modern motor car. Its 85-horsepower engine gives you economical, well-balanced performance over the entire speed range—and the 60-horsepower engine is even more economical.
2 The structural strength of the Ford car—frame, bracing, axles, body—makes it only for safety, but durability and long life.
3 Ford hydraulic brakes are exceptionally large and strong in proportion to car weight.
4 The Ford car is stabilized for comfortable riding. Its springbase, the distance between front and rear suspension, is 123 inches. Seats are toward the center, perfectly balanced. The car does not bob or dip and can have very little sway.
These four points—power, strength, safety, comfort—are by far the most important essentials in any motor car. They form the basic value of your investment.
With this solid foundation to build on, the Ford V-8 has been made beautiful, spacious, easy to drive. It is richly upholstered and has all the modern features which add to the luxury and pleasure of motoring.
You can see these things when you take a trial drive, but do not forget that the main value is in the things you do not readily see—quality of materials, precision of manufacture, fundamental engineering.

Workers May Obtain Security Ratings

Posters, telling workers how to get a statement showing the status of their social security wage records will appear shortly in every post office in the country, says William E. Kirchgessner, manager of the Old Age Insurance Bureau field in Grand Rapids.
 "These posters ask workers how much money they have earned in employment covered by old age insurance. They point out that benefits paid under the old age insurance program depend on the wages credited on the individual old age insurance accounts of the various individuals."
 "Our office has postcards which workers may send to the Social Security Board to obtain information as to the amount of money now credited to the accounts of workers for the years 1937 and 1938. Information for the latter year is now available for the first time."
 "Workers who want to know the status of their wage records should obtain copies of this postcard and mail it to our headquarters in Baltimore, where the earnings of covered employes are posted. We advise all workers to take this step, so they may be sure all the wages they have earned in each employment are posted to their credit."
 "There is no charge for this service except a one-cent stamp for mailing the cards, which may be obtained from our office in the Grand Rapids National Bank building, Grand Rapids," Mr. Kirchgessner said.

Horse Show Boxes Are Filled Four Days for Quality Events

Quality horses, which made competition extremely keen in practically every class of the Northville Horse Show, kept horse lovers in their spectators' boxes for four afternoons last week.

An unusually large number of villagers made up the horse show gallery. They shared their boxes with guests from out-of-town. Often they were filled with friends who had been guests at small luncheon parties which preceded the afternoons' events.

Mrs. Thomas Blackett just about stole the show Thursday afternoon with a month-old pup that became the darling of the assistant junior ringmaster. More than one of the officials decided that the pup was just what they had been waiting for.

It seemed that Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Clark, both show committee members, and Mr. Clark the president, were constantly on the lookout to see that spectators and exhibitors alike had a pleasant four days of it. They were gracious hosts Friday noon at their country home, Meadowbrook House, to just about everyone who has a warm spot in his heart for the horse and the show. The Horse Show committee took a share of responsibility on the occasion, too.

Among the college and school set were Ida Altman, Lois Chapman, Betty Schrader, Gwen Jones, Peg Walker, Nan McLoughlin, Louise and Frances Alexander, Pat Mc-Loughlin, Barbara Phillips, Phyllis Jeanne Jones, Kathryn Marburger, Jeanne Archison and Helen Harper.

Mrs. William Rawle Brown, chairman of the junior show, was seen at the ring each afternoon. She opened Arrowhead farm to a large number of guests Saturday noon for a luncheon event.

And over in the judges' box, with dozens of details to attend to, were Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Dowling, doing a splendid job of keeping the show on the mark.

The stock horse class was as colorful as was promised by the committee. None other than S. L. A. Marshall of The Detroit News was the judge in this class. It was held so well that applause from the spectators assured its return next year.

Among the Thursday spectators was Chef Howell, editor and publisher of the Chesaning Argus, who came out to learn if the reports of the Northville Fair and Horse Show could be verified. He admitted they could.

Seen, too, around the ring, were the Elmer Wiedricks, Robert Yerkes, Miss Walter, Cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Yerkes, Mrs. C. C. Yerkes, Mrs. Thad J. Knapp, Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Atchison, C. M. Young, Dr. H. H. Hancock, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Nelson, the George Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Orlow G. Owen and Andrea, the Alvin Kenins, Mrs. N. C. Schrader, Miss Reva Schrader, the Fred Hoffmanns, Mrs. Gerald McKenna, Mrs. T. G. Phillips, Victor and Geraldine Cape, Victoria and Mrs. D. H. Saley and Jane, Mr. and Mrs. John J. Hettche, Mrs. O. F. Reng, Mrs. W. E. McCarty, Mrs. F. W. Hawkins, Mrs. K. H. Babbitt, Mrs. A. Russell Clarke, Mrs. Charles Wilson, Mrs. J. K. Eastland, Mrs. James Congo, Robert and Ed Angove, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holmes, Dr. and Mrs. H. S. Willis, David and Kendall, Dr. and Mrs. W. E. Baskin, Robert Cooper, Mrs. Arlo Haggerty, Mrs. Mary Bennett, Miss Ann Kozlov, the E. H. Woods, the Ben Steers, the Harry Marburgers, Scott Cole, the C. J. Jollys, C. D. Figgdale, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kitchener and Joanne, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Koldike, Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Austin and Pat, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wegens-Hutz, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Chapman, Mrs. C. G. Washburnes and Betty VanHove.

Trophies this year were given by the Detroit National Horse Show Association, Northville Saddle Horse Association, William J. O'Leary company, Ford Motor Sales, Hotel Mayflower, Universal Credit Corporation, Wenden Goods Shop, Redbrook farm, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mack, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Macburger, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nichols, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Davison, Mr. and Mrs. Harrison, Mr. and Mrs. Wiedricks, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Outland, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Baker, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Gustaf Darrat, Mrs. Charles Newkirk, Mrs. Grace Newton, Mrs. Robert Haas, Mrs. Russell Walker, Mrs. Steers, Mrs. Victor L. Slater, Mrs. R. Edmund Dowling, Miss F. Irene Feinell, Richmond P. Benton, D. P. Broderick, C. Arthur Searle, Elmer Otten, Perry Snyder, Elmer Smith and Lucius Blake.

Viewing for attention around the ring Friday afternoon were Walter Davison and his group of Ford motorists, who sang and played songs old and new. Mr. Davison delighted a number of guests by originating lyrics in their honor. They played at noon, too, at the Clark luncheon.

Mrs. Melvin Kiken Entertains, Monday— Mrs. Melvin Kiken entertained Monday evening a shower honoring Mrs. Richard Jones. The hostess used pink and white appointments in her entertaining, the gifts being placed in an umbrella using the two colors. Y., Miss Barbara Phillips, Miss Leona Moffitt, Miss Phyllis Flaherty, Miss Norma Soper and Mrs. W. B. Weston.

For her wedding, the bride selected a floor length frock of coral peach chiffon. She carried an arm bouquet of white asters and gladioli. Her only attendant, Miss Lucy Howard of Farmington, wore a blue crepe frock. Her flowers were white gladioli and blue larkspur.

William W. Hamilton of Ann Arbor was Mr. Thompson's best man. Following the service, a reception was held for 35 guests. The table was centered with the bride's cake, flanked by bowls of roses and lighted tapers.

season, while commercial displays proved highly interesting.
Cows, horses, sheep, hogs, poultry and rabbits passed my inspection easily — which wouldn't be too difficult, although I overheard many favorable comments from those who probably knew what they were talking about.

The school exhibit proved exceptional, as did the wide variety of handwork displayed in the women's building. While there, Mrs. Van Dyne told me the Women's building was to be the Joe Louis headquarters, for press, and all that sort of thing. I'm making a bid, now, to represent the Walled Lake bureau of The Northville Record.

Met My Neighbor
Slipped a minute upon returning to the vicinity of the grandstand, and while standing there, Ed Lapman, went by as did, hizzoner, the Mayor, Art Nichols, and Clarence Shafer. Then up came Ira Carnes, my next door neighbor, who reminded me it was time to eat. So we et, in the Plymouth Presbyterian ladies' dining room, under the stand. Extra good eats, here were, with emphasis on the apple pie and coffee. Afterwards chatted with Mrs. Will Yerkes and Mrs. C. C. Yarkes and their friends, who were waiting. At the again Saturday night, sitting at same table with Lonnie Parmenter and his grand-daughter. Sat next to Dayton Bunn, too, and didn't realize it.

"Jack's Flunkin' Out!"

Strange Case of the Brilliant Boy Who Failed.

JACK HAD always been full of pep. But recently his mind didn't seem to grasp things. His parents worried. He couldn't study, didn't want to do anything.

HIS TEACHER didn't realize what was wrong with Jack. All she knew was that his school work was very poor. She told him to improve or he would fail classes.

ONE DAY the school nurse told Jack to have his eyes examined. He did. He came into our office and we saw that his eyes were strained. We fitted his glasses.

LAST JUNE Jack was a happy graduate. He soon forgot the painful shame of almost "flunkin' out." He is now in college, where his fine work has won him many fine citations.

develop an act of his own, which featured tricks on a 75 foot pole, the highest pole act of its kind known at the time. Competition soon necessitated an increase in elevation. He went from 75 to 100 feet.
"I soon had to go to 132 feet," said Jansely, "and with an increase in the number of acts similar to mine it wasn't long before I had reached 150 feet."
He explained that his present pole totaled 168 feet, but was unable to use the entire equipment here, because of the inability of grandstand patrons beyond the fourth row to see him.
Questioned with regard to the kind of training involved in preparing for such an act, as his, he stated that he went to the first 73 foot elevation with no training other than that received in the short, stage pole act. "I went to each succeeding height in a similar manner, with only the routine training previously gained from regular work," he said. "But, after all, height in this work doesn't mean much. You can slip only once, whether from 73 feet or 168. We have to die some time, and don't have much to say as to when. I have to make it living for my wife and two boys, and this is the best way I know about, although I sell used office equipment in Chicago, during the winter."
Close Call
"The closest call I believe I ever had, was in Thomson, Ont., about nine weeks ago. I'd been sick for a week and hadn't eaten anything. But the show must go on, so I opened the hind side, which was very close, in front of me, and reached the top of the pole and went part way through my act, when I became dizzy and sat down a minute, to rest. I passed completely out as I sat there, with the pole swaying about nine feet from center position in a strong wind. When I came to, I looked down and saw a lot of people directly below me, some holding a large piece of canvas in which to catch me. I was so doped I couldn't remember what had happened, or what I'd already done up there, so I went through the whole act again, and came down."
Jansely said he might continue his performance another 10 years. His father and brothers are still doing a tumbling act, in vaudeville, although the father is now 70 years old.
I'm a Judge
The grand finale of the fair — for me — was that part where I acted as one of the judges, right up the stage, when they gave out prizes. Guess that's what I was appointed to. After the show, one of the first to greet me on the midway was Gerald Taft, who said "Hello, Judge," just like that. And before leaving, it was a pleasure to greet the E. V. Mercers of Walled Lake, the Ray Richardsons, the Lou Fairs of Detroit, the Pete Elys, the E. H. Babbitts and some friends of theirs, the Charles Johnsons, the Charles Freydis, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Schoutz and Mrs. Meta Amber. What I'd like to know, now, is whether I won that new kind of chair I sat down in, in the Schrader exhibit?
Miss Gladys Ludwig left Sunday evening for Detroit to visit the forepart of the week with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. William Forsyth.

Watch the Stock Parade
The top step in the stand is a great place to see everything taking place down in front. In the afternoon, Saturday, could be seen the interesting parade of stock and farm machinery directly in front, while on the left were the hitters and jumpers of the horse show, and on the right the ball game. Looking over the rail at the back was the midway and all its attractions in kaleidoscopic array. It was here, during one of the intermittent showers, Saturday night, that a vendor volunteered the information that during his six years of fair coverage, it had always rained on the last day. His five preceding years had been at the fairs.
So perhaps that's why it rained at Northville, on the last day.
It was my rare privilege to sit for a while in the afternoon in the press box at the horse show, with vga... covers the horses, you know. And boy, did I see things! That is, up until the time for the cowboys and girls to perform. From their on, it was a blank... or practically so, except for the broad side of one of the horses, except once, when they ran the hind side, which was very close, in front of me, and I nearly died. It was just after that, that I saw Perry Holmes, now of Birmingham.
Of the many entertaining acts offered during the four days of grandstand shows, the outstanding performance from the standpoint of a strictly death-defying nature was provided by a little guy, named A. F. Jansely. Ira Carnes, watching with me, first remarked that he'd rather eat three chicken dinners than he'd buy up that 132 1/2 foot pole on a rope, swinging by one hand. As Jansely kept going up, Ira said he'd be willing to settle for a ham sandwich.
Jansely roused in my curiosity to find out what sort of person it takes to willingly take his life in his own hands twice a day at an average performance. So I went back there after his performance to find out.
He invited me into his tent, and while dressing sketched a brief life for me. He was occasionally interrupted by other entertainers on the lot, who had either lost or won bets during the afternoon racing, calling either to apologize for a bum tip, or to divide their winnings.
He's This Sort
Jansely was born of German and English parentage at Brooklyn, N. Y., 44 years ago, and began working as an aerobic performer with his father and three brothers at the age of four. His early life was spent doing stage performances throughout Europe. His training began with pole tricks for stage presentation. Coming to this country, the five Janselys became popular with their bookings in vaudeville houses and circuses. At the age of 19, Jansely left the family troupe, to as a cucumber!

How cool a cucumber really is on a warm day is a matter for conjecture. Perhaps it depends on how recently he left the refrigerator. But in the matter of room temperatures, one fact stands out: You can be sure of comfortable cooking in warm weather if you have an electric range. Tests show that baking or roasting in an electric oven will not raise the kitchen temperature one degree. All of the heat is kept inside. This is a boon in hot weather. See the new electric ranges on display at department stores, hardware stores, electrical dealers or at your Detroit Edison office.
